

THE CORPORATE EXPERIENCE

ROCK YOUR RESULTS

From personal responsibility to collective performance.

Rock Your Results is an immersive half-day or full-day corporate programme that challenges participants to examine their personal responsibility, contribution and performance - and what it really means to play a much bigger game at work.

WHAT HAPPENS DURING THE DAY

Through practical exercises, discussion and high-energy facilitation, Mike moves the room beyond passive participation and into ownership. The programme explores how individuals communicate, respond under pressure, recognise others, work across different personalities and take responsibility for the culture they help create.

- Personality profiling and communication skills
- Accountability, resilience and personal responsibility
- Recognition and understanding different people differently
- Workflows, collaboration and contribution
- Responsibility to role, corporate culture and mission

THEN EVERYTHING CHANGES

THE FINAL TWO HOURS BECOME A LIVE ROCK SHOW.

Each table is assigned a legendary band. KISS, ABBA, AC/DC, Village People, The Rolling Stones, The Bangles and The Go-Go's are just some of the possibilities. Teams then have two hours to dress up, choreograph, learn their song and prepare to sing it live on stage with a real rock band - while the rest of the room cheers them on.

The result is collaboration, cohesiveness, laughter and a room full of people achieving something many of them would not have believed possible that morning. They leave with shared memories, stronger connections and a genuine can-do attitude.

"We thought the firewalk was challenging. When we overcame this, we knew we could overcome anything."

FLEXIBLE BY DESIGN

Run Rock Your Results as a complete half-day or full-day programme, or use it as the signature experiential piece of a larger conference, leadership event or corporate retreat. The learning can finish in the late afternoon - or flow directly into an evening function and live celebration.
